

You're invited to a free online training

Introduction to social protection in the Pacific

Date: Thursday 20 March 2025

Time: 8:30 am - 12:30 pm AEDT

Location: Online (Zoom)

The increasing frequency of disasters and the growing threat of climate change have prompted many Pacific countries to rethink their approach to social protection. Many have already used social protection measures, such as cash transfers, to respond to crises, including the COVID-19 pandemic, cyclones, and earthquakes.

Using real-world examples, regional insights, and practical strategies this free online training explores:

- Key concepts and ideologies of social protection and their impact on policy design
- How risks and vulnerabilities across the lifecycle shape social protection policies
- The unique social protection landscape in Pacific island countries
- The Pacific model of social protection
- How social protection promotes inclusive economic recovery and growth, responds to shocks and disasters, and supports gender, disability, and social inclusion

Register here

P4SP is committed to an inclusive and accessible learning environment. If you require any adjustments to support your participation, contact training@p4sp.org.

We look forward to your participation!